Such fees may be used only for program purposes including administrative expenses, the refunding of fees paid by participants or any class of participants, the matching of contributions made by participants or any class of participants, the use of funds to provide scholarships to beneficiaries attending institutions of higher education, or any other purpose allowed under the Act or the Program Act. Customary and usual investment costs may be deducted from the program fund in connection with the investment thereof and are not included in the administrative fees. Customary and usual account maintenance fees may be deducted from an individual account opened by a participant who is not a Maine resident, unless it is opened on behalf of a beneficiary who is a Maine resident.
- B. Except upon the occurrence of an early termination event, if the participant makes a withdrawal for any purpose other than the payment of qualified higher education expenses, the participant must pay an additional tax or other penalty as provided in federal requirements. - C. [Repealed effective December 3, 2001]
- D. If the Authority liquidates any account pursuant to this provision, the participant will be entitled to a disbursement subject to a penalty of 15% of the portion of the disbursement attributable to investment earnings on amounts contributed to the account.

- A. A participant may withdraw funds from the account, subject to the penalties or additional tax identified in section 11. Any investment losses will be deducted from the principal amount of contributions. - E. [Repealed effective June 4, 2002]

If the participant fails to provide such direction with respect to all or part of such balance within 75 days, the Authority may close the account and disburse all amounts remaining to the participant.

13. TRANSFER OF OWNERSHIP

- A. The participant may transfer ownership rights of an account to another eligible participant, provided the transfer is accomplished without consideration. All requests for substitution of a participant must include:

 - 5) Such other information as the Authority may require.
- B. On the death of the participant on an account, if the participant has so elected, the account will be transferred to the designated successor named in the participation agreement or otherwise, in writing, and that designated successor will become the new participant. If no one is designated as a successor, the account will be treated as provided in the then current Program Description or in such manner as the Authority and its designated agent or contractor shall determine.

14. TAX CONSEQUENCES

Withdrawals from accounts for qualified distributions are exempt from taxation by the State of Maine pursuant to 36 MRSA §5122(2)(J). In addition, any portion of a withdrawal used to pay for the qualified higher education expenses of a beneficiary at an institution of higher education and subsequently refunded and recontributed to an account for the beneficiary within 60 days of the refund in accordance with federal requirements is not subject to Maine income tax to the extent not included in federal adjusted gross income in accordance with federal requirements.

15. APPEAL

In the event that there is a dispute between a participant or beneficiary and the chief executive officer, the decision of the chief executive officer shall be final agency action appealable to the Maine Superior Court.

16. WAIVER OF RULE

The Authority may use the remaining amounts to fund each of the following programs: the fee rebate or waiver program; the matching grant programs; and the scholarship programs.

To use matching grant funds, the participant must certify that such funds are being used for such qualified higher education expenses in such manner as required by the Authority.
- e) All matching grant funds will be invested at the discretion of the Authority. The participant has no ability to direct the investment of matching grant funds.

- h) The Authority reserves the right at all times to require evidence of eligibility to receive a matching grant and may conduct audits to determine eligibility without obtaining additional consent from the participant after a matching grant has been allocated to an account. In the event a subsequent audit reveals that the matching grant was obtained through the submission of erroneous information, the Authority may immediately revoke the matching grant. If matching grant funds have been withdrawn prior to the determination that the application or request for withdrawal contained erroneous information, the Authority may deduct the amount so obtained from any funds remaining in the account.

- (2) The family of the eligible child must provide any information the Authority needs to open the account on or before close of business on such date as may be set by the Authority;
- (3) The child must be otherwise eligible to be the beneficiary of an account;

in making the present value calculation. For subsequent rounds of scholarships, the amount awarded to each eligible account shall be based on the age of the child who is the beneficiary of the account such that the value of the account at the time of the beneficiary's 18th birthday is an amount determined in the discretion of the Authority for that round of scholarships, assuming the foregoing investment return. If the child is 18 years or older, the account will be fully funded at inception.

If the beneficiary has withdrawn funds from the account prior to the beneficiary's 29th birthday, the beneficiary may continue to withdraw funds until the beneficiary's 35th birthday, at which time the account will be terminated. In the event the account is terminated while funds remain in the account, all remaining funds shall be returned to the authority to be used for program purposes.
