

Money, money, money!

First - Answer these questions.

What is money?

What's chicken worth?

$ _____

Imagine this...

You go to the store with your family to buy milk, bananas, and cookies. When you try to pay the cashier says, "Ok, that will cost 1 chicken and 3 roses."

Huh?! That sounds silly! If we didn't have money, we would have to trade things to get what we want. Trading means giving something you have to get something you need. Would you rather carry chickens in your backpack or money in your wallet?

What Is Money? - Money is what we use to buy things. It helps us pay for food, toys, clothes, and more. Coins and paper bills are types of money we can hold in our hands.
